

Maxim BALASHOV

Selections, intersections and projections

Abstract. We shall discuss the problems which entail the necessity to consider uniformly continuous selections and set-valued mappings associated with them. The most important such set-valued mapping is the intersection of two uniformly continuous set-valued mappings with convex images. This mapping cannot be continuous even in the trivial case.